Revel Consulting Sees 3,000 Percent Growth

8/22/2008

Revel Consulting, a Bellevue, Wash.-based business and IT consulting firm, recently was named as the fastest growing private company in Washington and the 48th fastest in the nation by Inc. magazine. Revel experienced over 3,000 percent growth in revenue from 2004 to 2007, according to the firm, with current revenues now exceeding $15 million.

Revel's fast growth has come from engagements with Fortune 500 companies such as Microsoft, Safeco Insurance, Starbucks and AT&T. The firm's core disciplines include program and product management, change management, process engineering, sales and market management and strategy development.

Stamford, Conn.-based Archstone Consulting was ranked No. 1971 for its 188 percent growth over the same aforementioned timeframe.
